Membership 2019 Information Sheet

- 1. You must complete a full address including Post Code
2. Choose the correct category/categories of membership for this address taking into account the Insurance details below:

BEE DISEASES INSURANCE

Bee Diseases Insurance (BDI) does not apply for Junior or Associate categories.

For Registered Members Bee Diseases Insurance cover for up to 3 colonies is included in the basic subscription and is mandatory.

BDI cover for more than 3 colonies will require an additional premium to be paid. When working out how many colonies you need BDI cover for, consider the maximum number of colonies that you are likely to have at any one time during the year, including splits and swarms, and insure for that number. Full colonies and nucleus colonies count for BDI purposes, but mini-nucs do not.

Should the worst happen and you have bee disease problems, if you do not have enough cover for all the colonies, wherever they are, your insurance will be invalid.

Even more seriously, if you share an apiary and are under-insured, you invalidate the insurance cover for all the other beekeepers' colonies in that apiary too.

The table below shows the additional premium you need to pay for each range of colonies.

Table with 2 rows: Number of colonies and Additional premium due. Columns represent colony ranges from 1-3 to 36-39.

BDI for Partner Members: Normally BDI will be in the name of the Registered Member and should be enough to cover the colonies jointly owned by both members. However, if colonies are owned by the Partner Member him/herself then these must be separately insured, including paying the basic minimum £2 for up to three colonies. The subscription form allows for this.

- 3. Complete any optional extra's taking into account the BeeCraft details below:

BeeCraft Magazine - If you wish to subscribe, via the Division, the cost of the subscription, for hardcopy, has a discount of 10% off the cover price for issues April 2019 until March 2020. You also have the offer of receiving a digital copy free of any extra charge. There is also an annual digital version subscription, via the Division, also at a discounted price. An email must be provided

6. DATA PROTECTION / EBKA CONDITIONS OF MEMBERSHIP

All details you supply on your subscription form will be held locally for Divisional & EBKA membership management use.

Full members will be registered with BBKA, BDI Ltd (eReturn2), and the Animal & Plant Health Agency (BeeBase).

BDI (eReturn2) will hold names, contact details, BBKA membership numbers, amount paid and hive numbers.

BBKA will hold names, addresses, and BBKA membership numbers.

Names and contact details of full members will be given to the Animal & Plant Health Agency (BeeBase).

If you are on the swarm collector list, which is voluntary, your name, postcode and telephone number may be given to BBKA or to members of EBKA, or to members of the public for this purpose only.

Your details will not be passed to any other organisation. Contact Membership Secretary if you need more information

You must tick the box & accept the terms of Membership

- 7. Consider the last 3 items and complete as appropriate - only complete the 3rd item here if you have bees.
